

This is a comment about Low Power broadcasting service. I understand that there is a proposal to expand these LPFM Stations in a way that would or could take priority over current FM translator service. I am a regular listener to a national FM network of stations called K-Love, a listener supported 24 hour Christian radio station. Here in the Denver area, I listen to K-Love on FM 91.1. It is such a blessing to be able to listen to a station like K-Love that has no advertising and plays music that requires no 7 second delay! It is music that is uplifting and safe for the whole family to hear and the commentaries are about current and contemporary Christian issues that are important to me. I have been a listener and support of K-Love Christian Radio for several years and it would be a great loss to the public interest to lose a station like this to an LPFM station. The world has a lot of music that is degrading and not fit for children to hear, much less most adults. I would be lost without having a safe station to turn to any time of the day or night that contains such uplifting content and supports wholesome values to all listeners, regardless of their beliefs. Thank you for allowing me to submit this comment on 04-233.
